

Volunteers and trainees help us translate materials and support the staff in the daily activities of EKOenergy's secretariat.

The frequent arrival and departure of volunteers and trainees forces us to focus on the transfer of knowledge and guarantees a continuous flow of fresh ideas.

10 YEARS OF... involving volunteers and trainees

- EKOenergy's Secretariat has hosted more than 150 volunteers and trainees.
- They help us reach out to NGOs, energy consumers, energy companies and many other relevant stakeholders in many different languages.
- We offer meaningful tasks to young people who want to develop their personal skills while at the same time contributing to the fight against climate change.

The work at our secretariat consists of a balanced mix of individual work and team work.

By involving volunteers, we can focus on more countries and more sectors than we would otherwise be able to.

79 of our volunteers came via the European Solidarity Corps. Together these volunteers spent more than 750 months at our Secretariat.

Volunteers and trainees get the opportunity to learn about renewable energy, climate change and nature protection.

18 volunteers and trainees came from Germany, 14 from France and 13 from Italy.

Our volunteers and trainees have come from 28 countries.

Several of our volunteers and trainees have later found a job in the renewable energy sector.
